

ROGER MOWER

BASKETBALL BASEBALL

1964

Roger Mower was called "Mr. Basketball" as a 4 year letterman at College Park High School. Roger was selected to All-DVAL status twice and as a "Big Man" is still ranked in the top 10 in every offensive and defensive category of College Park basketball. As a forward/center Roger earned a full athletic scholarship to Creighton University where he played for 4 years under Red McManus. Mower also excelled on the baseball diamond and earned All-DVAL honors as a first baseman in 1964. After graduating from Creighton, Roger taught school and coached high school basketball in Omaha for 10 years. He is currently a Regional Account Manager for Wyeth Pharmaceuticals where he has worked for the past 23 years. Roger currently lives in St. Charles, Missouri with his wife of 36 years, Ann.
